Human Trafficking: The Human and Sex Trade

Date: April 16, 2019 Time: 0800-1700

“Human trafficking is one of the most heinous crimes Law Enforcement investigates. In its worst manifestation, human trafficking is akin to modern-day slavery.”

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course is STC certified (5291-057320).

This eight (8) hour course will bring awareness and enhance your knowledge of Human and Sex Trafficking as well as the associated crimes. Criminal traffickers around the world generate billions of dollars by exploiting the underage and under protected. This course will illustrate how Traffickers deprive and violate their victims by means of force, fraud, and coercion, in addition to how the insidious and horrific crimes of Human and Sex Trafficking affect our communities and law enforcement. You will learn the legal definition of Trafficking, how to recognize indicators of Trafficking, how to identify Trafficking victims, how conduct preliminary investigations and how to identify and utilize the available resources. How minors are trafficked within the sex trade business will also be examined. This is a great course for Investigators, Patrol, Corrections, Parole, Probation and Supervisors.
